Knight (in form of title sir or sire) is a person granted an honorary title of knighthood by a monarch or other political leader for service to the monarch or country, especially in a military capacity.

Nokta during his knighthood

Knights also form army units and regiments in some states. For example, in Redania they are grouped into cavalry while in Temeria they prioritize fighting by foot. And then there is Toussaint, a land of love and wine within the Nilfgaardian Empire, that does not have an army and so relies on noble knights errant and the Ducal Guard.

But what about the knights that choose not to stay at court and stay with their ruler? They can become a knight for hire, mercenaries with a noble title, or as is happening more often, they may join some knightly order like the Order of the Flaming Rose. The absolute majority of knights are males, all though there are a few exceptions.

Lady Knights

Lady Knights or Knightesses are rare, but not unheard of, and are typically women who have trained extensively in combat and are recognized as skilled warriors. Lady knights face challenges that their male counterparts do not. They often have to overcome societal prejudices and prove themselves worthy of the title. Some may choose to conceal their gender to avoid discrimination, while others may embrace it and challenge the norms of their society.
